

Your Computer Vision Path

Major overview:

This path offers deep insights into the field of Computer Vision. You will acquire skills and programming techniques that will enable you to develop applications in the field of image and video processing and even for the creation of new image and video material.

The path should guide learners to achieve the following:

Example Universities and Institutions

included in this Learning path:

