

Your Data Steward Learning Path

Role Overview:

Data management expert with focus on data quality and domain expertise - understanding the meaning of datasets to act as an interpreter to Data Science team members and business.

The path should guide learners to achieve the following:

Mathematics & Statistics

Basic technical understanding of mathematics and statistics

Data Management & Processes

Deep domain knowledge (e.g. product information, domain-specific master data) and advanced knowledge of data management tools and processes

Problem Solving

Good problem solving, teamwork and communication skills

Example Universities and Institutions included in this Learning path:

